

Company Backgrounder

When Lisa Winder and Tim Hawkins met in 1996, the synergy of their respective interests in health and physical therapy formed Windhawk, Arizona’s cutting-edge wellness center focused on empowering clients to achieve the perfect balance between Right Nutrition, Right Use and Right Mindset.

The perfect balance of the three—known as the Windhawk Triad—is what Windhawk refers to as “The Nature of Performance.”™ Right Nutrition is based on the philosophy that food is your best medicine, especially when you eat “living” or “raw” foods. Right Use identifies imbalances in the body and corrects them utilizing Active Isolated Stretching (AIS) and functional strength and posture. Right Mindset focuses on replacing negative mental programming with the positive.

Windhawk inspires passion in individuals to redefine their current health expectations though products and services that embrace nature as a guide to achieve maximum wellbeing and performance. The Company offers the Windhawk Method, a unique tool for physical assessment and correction; personalized nutritional counseling; testing and detoxification support to help individuals uncover and correct problems for achieving exceptional health and wellness. Unique Windhawk Services include:

- Active Isolated Stretching (AIS)
- Far Infrared Sauna
- Oxygen Therapy – O2 Steambath and O2 Training
- Massage Therapy
- Nutritional Counseling
- Food Sensitivity Testing
- Seminars and Workshops
- Classes

Windhawk’s unique position expands beyond local services. They offer specially formulated products to promote healing, vitality and performance without compromise.
